

Main Activity:

Media & Marketing Consultancy

Business Description:

Cactus Lab FZ-LLC is a marketing and media consultancy company providing digital content creation, social media management, and marketing support services to businesses across various industries. The company focuses on producing short-form video content, managing social media platforms, and supporting brand growth through creative and performance-driven marketing strategies. Services include content production, advertisement design, and overall marketing management in line with the activities stated in the trade license.